CLA President’s Greetings

Grüße CLA Familie, ¡Saludos a la familia de CLA!, Salutations CLA famille, Saudações CLA família:

On behalf of the Executive Committee of the College Language Association, I welcome you to our 80th Convention and 84th anniversary celebration. Please prepare yourselves for four exciting days of critical debate and social interactions with CLA family and friends at our virtual convention.

We are saddened by the death of our dearly departed Vice President, Dr. Yvonne E. McIntosh, and we have been grieving so many others who have been affected by the current crises. We are thankful that we are able to gather virtually to honor their lives.

The Program Committee, under the leadership of Vice President and Program Chair Jervette R. Ward, English Area Representative McKinley E. Melton, and World Languages Area Representative José Manuel Batista, has worked closely with our local Host Committee, Dr. Terrence Tucker and Dr. Shelby Crosby, to prepare for our 80th Convention. And, we thank the administrators, faculty, staff, and students at the University of Memphis for their support.

This year, because of the global pandemic, we cannot return physically to our birthplace of LeMoyne-Owen College in Memphis, Tennessee. In 1937, President Emeritus Dr. Hugh M. Gloster and nine faculty members from historically Black institutions founded this great organization to improve the educational level of their students and to provide a forum for African American scholars of languages, literatures, and cultural studies. We are excited to offer virtual tours of LeMoyne-Owen College, the University of Memphis, and the National Civil Rights Museum.

This year’s Convention theme, “Afrofuturism: Diasporic Visions,” generated many creative and engaging proposals and sessions. As Host Committee Chair, Dr. Tucker noted in his letter to CLA members, “the theme of the convention comes at an ideal time for Memphis as we connect the crucial Black cultural traditions and experiences with the possibility of the future being imagined through the realms of science fiction, fantasy, and speculative fiction.”

And so with apologies to Langston Hughes’s short story Home and a song —“I’m coming home”— by one of my favorite groups the Spinners, we are coming home to Memphis virtually.

I look forward to seeing you there!

Sincerely,

Reginald A. Bess, Ph.D.

Greetings Members and Guests of the College Language Association’s 2021 Convention:

On behalf of the Board of Trustees, faculty, staff, and students of the University of Memphis, welcome to the 80th Convention of the College Language Association (CLA). A special thanks is due to the Planning Committee and members of the UofM community in the Department of English and the African and African American Studies Program for their work in preparing for this convention. CLA is a critical part of the history of this city’s long and rich cultural, musical, and academic legacy.

Originally founded in 1909 as the West Tennessee State Normal School, our student population in the fall totaled 22,203 students, once again making the university the second largest public university in Tennessee. Even as we have expanded our commitment to research and doctoral study – adding two more doctoral programs – our dedication to the education of teachers and leaders across Memphis and the Mid-South region remains unwavering. Whether identified in our name change to West Tennessee State Teachers college in 1925 or in the creation of our laboratory school Campus Elementary, which received the designation as a National Blue Ribbon School for academic achievement, the UofM sees a direct connection between applying the newest most effective pedagogical techniques throughout the region and exposing young people to the exciting and groundbreaking research being performed on campus. Our interest in excellence in teaching extends to our growing online program. We were recently ranked by U.S. News & World Report as No. 1 in Tennessee in online programs which includes nationally ranked online programs in nursing for veterans (13th) and criminal justice (graduate, 24th).

Perhaps most importantly, with an African American population of over 30%, diversity has become one of the key values in this university’s mission. Beginning in 1959 with the admittance of its first African American students, known as the Memphis State Eight, our interest in having an institution that not only reflects Memphis, but that acknowledges the history and addresses the lived experiences of residents in a city with historic African American neighborhoods like Orange Mound, but also dense poverty in the midst of the revitalization of the downtown and midtown areas. As we continue to mourn last year’s death of John Simpson, one of the Memphis State Eight, and the recent death of the university’s first Black professor, Dr. Miriam DeCosta-Willis, we are proud of doubling the four year graduation rates for African American men over the last five years. We achieved this success by recruiting and retaining diverse faculty and by prioritizing outreach efforts to the Memphis community. Recently, we established the African American Male Academy that invests in the mentorship of African American boys at the crucial middle school period that often determines interest in college or the disinterest.

Congratulations on your 80th Convention. We are thrilled to be a part of your legacy and send best wishes for a successful conference.

Warm regards,

M. David Rudd
President
Dear CLA Members,

Despite the delays caused by COVID-19 and the unique challenges that have emerged throughout 2020, the University of Memphis remains humbled and thrilled to host the historic virtual convention of the College Language Association (CLA) April 7-10, 2021. Begun as West Tennessee State Normal School and most recently remembered as Memphis State University through the 1990s, the university has consistently expanded its commitment to the population of the mid-South, whether providing role models as teachers and staff in Shelby County Schools, collaborating with FedEx and International Paper, or enlivening the already vibrant cultural and intellectual life of the “Home of the Blues.” As the school begins to garner national attention in athletics and academics, we welcome the opportunity to help shape the conversations initiated by an internationally known organization committed to language, pedagogy, and literary study.

As the city where CLA started we are thoroughly pleased to be hosting its 80th convention and debuting a radically different experience for participants. Thankfully, we have been sitting at the intersection of historical celebrations that also serve as a launching pad for shifting towards the future of literature, language, and culture. By the time the convention arrives in 2021 the city will have celebrated its bicentennial and the university will have commemorated the 60th anniversary of the Memphis State Eight, the first African Americans admitted to the school. The theme of the convention, Afrofuturism: Diasporic Notions, comes at an ideal time for Memphis as we connect the crucial black cultural traditions and experiences with the possibility of the future being imagined through the realms of science fiction, fantasy, and speculative fiction.

Memphis boasts a very diverse student body and has included diversity as one of the core values in its construction of a 21st century urban university. With a substantial first-generation population, Memphis faculty emphasize a true balance between teaching and research. As a university in the middle of the Southern Delta many Memphis students are committed to remaining in the region post-graduation to serve underrepresented communities that have been traditionally misrepresented and marginalized. Other students take the values they learned from the award winning, deeply beloved faculty outside the region to affect state, regional, national, and global change.

Our keynote speaker is Yansion Womack who has already been a screenwriter, actress, producer, and director in her young career. We are thrilled she remained committed to speaking at the convention remotely after we were forced to postpone. Her most recent work has put her at the forefront of the Black Speculative Arts Movement. In particular, Afrofuturism: The World of Black Sci-Fi and Fantasy Culture (2013) situates her in the middle of the critical discourse surrounding speculative fiction while works like her Rayla Universe series and her forthcoming novella A Spaceship in Bronzeville add to the increasing body of work in what that has become an emergent field in contemporary African American literature.

While we will not see you in Memphis we hope that we will be able to provide you with a taste of the city with a number of virtual tours and experiences that evoke the unique racial and cultural history of Memphis. We promise an exploration of important landmarks and sites will augment an intellectually stimulating and culturally exciting time.

Sincerely,

Terrence Tucker, Ph.D.

Dear CLA Colleagues,

Welcome to our Virtually Reimagined Afrofuturism Convention! I am honored to serve as the Program Chair for the 80th annual College Language Association Convention hosted by my home city of Memphis and my alma mater, The University of Memphis, April 7-10, 2021.

We all shared deep sadness at the passing of Dr. Yvonne McIntosh, who served as Vice President and Program Chair of the 2020 convention, which was canceled due to COVID-19. We had been working together to plan a special 80th celebration that highlighted CLA’s return to its founding city and included events at our founding institution, Lemoyne-Owen College. I wish that we could gather in person, but the Program Committee and the CLA Executive Committee have worked tirelessly to plan the first ever virtual convention, and it seems especially fitting to have it with the theme of Afrofuturism as we have all been tasked with reimagining Black lives in an ever-changing future.

The 2021 convention program is an updated version of what we planned for 2020, yet it includes a few timely additions on the legacies of Cheryl Wall and Miriam DeCosta-Willis, the Black Lives Matter Movement, teaching in the COVID-19 era, and the CLA vision panel. Our goal has been to honor what we already constructed while also recognizing the substantial changes that have happened due to the Coronavirus.

Finally, as we are unable to gather in person, I especially wanted to share with each Convention participant a unique opportunity to experience our host city. The Program Committee has partnered with The 901 Box, a Black-owned Memphis business that seeks to transport box recipients to Memphis by providing a way to taste, touch, hear, smell, and see a little bit of the city through the experience of products from local Black entrepreneurs. We hope that you enjoy this specially curated box that includes snacks, art, and other treats from the Bluff City. Your 901 Box also includes the beautifully designed printed program.

None of the work of CLA would be possible without the committed service of the CLA Executive Committee, and I want to specifically thank my fellow Program Committee members, Dr. José Manuel Batista and Dr. McKinley E. Melton. My deepest thanks to President Reginald A. Bess and our entire leadership team. And to our members, thank you for trusting us to lead our beloved institution in these challenging times. We are thankful for you, and we hope that this convention experience will be one to remember.

All the Best,

17. CLA CONVENTION FILM SCREENING & TWITTER CHAT
THURSDAY, APRIL 8, 7:30 P.M. - 9:30 P.M.

SEE YOU YESTERDAY BY STEFON BRISTOL — A FILM SCREENING SPONSORED BY VIRGINIA TECH, THE UNIVERSITY OF KANSAS, AND CLA

Film Screening Facilitator: Tyanchia Thompson, Virginia Tech
Twitter Chat Facilitator: Anthony Boynton, University of Kansas

See You Yesterday (2019) is a science fiction film that follows the lives of best friends, C.J. and Sebastian, as they work to construct the world’s next big invention--backpacks that will enable them to travel across time. When C.J.’s older brother, Calvin, dies in a tragic shooting, this high school duo put their love of science into action, sending them on a series of dangerous and unexpected trips to the past. The film was nominated for two awards at the 35th Independent Spirit Awards. Make sure you have your 901 Box handy because all movies need snacks.

Join us for the third-annual CLA Convention Twitter Chat, an easy and fun way to engage with the larger online scholarly community on topics related to this year’s CLA Convention theme. This year’s chat is in conjunction with our virtual film screening. Anthony Boynton, @ADBoyntonII, and Tyanchia Thompson, @tyechialynn will post a series of stimulating questions, so join us at @clascholar on Twitter for a rigorous and illuminating chat.

41. CLA ACTIVE MIND, BODY, & SPIRIT ZUMBA —
A SPECIAL SESSION SPONSORED BY THE MEMBERSHIP COMMITTEE
SATURDAY, MARCH 6, 9:00 A.M. - 10:15 A.M.

Facilitator: Constance Bailey, University of Arkansas

Who said that self-care was just spa days and wine? With classics like Earth, Wind, & Fire’s "September" to Lizzo’s "Tempo," Zumba is just the activity to lift the spirit and energize the soul, so come join the Membership Committee and Licensed Zumba Instructor Constance Bailey as we engage in a little self-care with fitness and fun. This session will be 45 to 50 minutes, including a warm up and cool down, which leaves plenty of time to shower and get ready for more panels! Be sure to follow @CLAScholar and @creneebailey on Twitter for the entire playlist so that you can start getting those moves ready. Fitness gear, water, and a great attitude are all you need to bring! Feel free to modify the routines as needed.

Third Stone Journal (ISSN 2688-6510) is devoted to Afrofuturism and other modes of the Black Fantastic. It is intended as a starting place for necessary conversations on literature, art, music, digital content, popular culture, and more that seeks to inject activism by advocating for the removal of obstacles that habitually stifled and/or silenced people of African descent, their imagination, and things produced as a result.

Newspaper journalist, teacher, and social reformer, Josephine J. Turpin Washington led a life of intense engagement with the issues facing African American society in the post-Reconstruction era. This volume recovers numerous essays, many of them unavailable to the general public until now, and reveals the major contributions to the emerging black press made by this Virginia-born, Howard University-educated woman who clerked for Frederick Douglass and went on to become a writer with an important and unique voice.

Written between 1880 and 1918, the work collected here is significant in the ways it disrupts the nineteenth-century African American literary canon, which has traditionally prioritized slave narratives. It paves the way for the treatment of race and gender in later nineteenth-century African American novels and engages biblical scriptures and European and American literature to support racial uplift ideology. It also articulates shrewdly the aesthetic needs and responsibilities necessary for the black press to establish a reputable literary sphere.

Part of a vibrant movement to reclaim writings of nineteenth-century African American women writers, this expertly edited and annotated collection represents not only a valuable scholarly resource but a powerful example of the determination of a southern black woman to inspire others to improve their own lives and those of all African Americans.

PROGRAM COMMITTEE
2020-2022

Jervette R. Ward (Chair)    José Manuel Batista    McKinley E. Melton

The program offered for the 80th annual CLA convention is a labor of love and represents our firm commitment to the Association’s founding mission.

The 2020-2022 Program Committee would like to offer their gratitude to the 2018-2020 Program Committee: Yvonne E. McIntosh (deceased), Jervette R. Ward, and Rhonda M. Collier who all played an integral part in the development of the program for this year’s convention. In addition, we greatly appreciate the work of Elizabeth J. West, Anna Hinton, Avery Ferguson, Greg Marcus, and Christopher A. Varlack. Thank you for your service to CLA.
